Comedy night in Glenside features some of the best up and coming comics from New York City.

TOM COTTER

Tom Cotter - If laughter is the best medicine, prepare to be heavily medicated. Tom Cotter's high energy, rapid-fire style of comedy leaves audiences clutching their sides and rolling in the aisles. In the past year alone Tom Filmed his very own half hour special for Comedy Central, won the grand prize at the Boston Comedy Festival, and was voted "Best Stand-Up" at the Las Vegas Comedy Festival. Recently he made his first appearance on the Tonight Show with Jay Leno and was featured in "Best Of The Fest" at the Montreal Comedy Festival. Other recent television appearances include Comedy Central's Premium Blend, the 2008 Barbara Walters Special, The Late Late Show on CBS and NBC's Last Comic Standing.

Since moving to New York City, Tom landed his own series on the Woman's Entertainment Network called "TWO FUNNY" and was featured in the Miramax Film, Next Stop Wonderland. He has performed at over 300 colleges and in a wide variety of venues from Nome, Alaska to Beijing, China to the Kennedy Center in Washington DC. Tom's appeal is truly international as he was summoned to London to tour and perform on British Television, and he won the Seattle International Stand-Up Comedy Competition, as the Boston Herald noted "winning by the largest margin of victory in the history of the event." He has also been featured in dozens of television commercials, for products like McDonald's, Doritos, Pepsi, and Amstel Lite, just to name a few. Tom's star is rising quickly, CATCH IT!!

Moody McCarthy

Moody McCarthy - After appearances on Last Comic Standing and Jimmy Kimmel Live, Moody McCarthy is no longer a well-kept secret. (After an appearance on the re-vamped Star Search, he still was.) With sharp, versatile material and an old-school ethic, Moody has performed all over North America and Asia and left them wanting more (as in "Bravo!", not "We were ripped!").

Moody began his career in Syracuse, NY, in the 1990s and quickly established himself as a keen monologist. Now based in New York City, he's become a regular in the town's best rooms and grown into an act that thrives in any setting, from upscale country clubs to divey pubs. Weaving sly topical jokes with crafty material and a dash of crowd-work, Moody's likeability shines in any setting.

Moody McCarthy: few people hate him!
